WHAT DOES APPLE TREE CREDIT UNION DO WITH YOUR PERSONAL INFORMATION?

Why?

Financial companies choose how they share your personal information. Federal law gives consumers the right to limit some but not all sharing. Federal law also requires us to tell you how we collect, share, and protect your personal information. Please read this notice carefully to understand what we do.

What?

The types of personal information we collect and share depend on the product or service you have with us. This information can include:

- Social Security Number and account information
- Credit Transactions and credit history
- Savings Transactions and savings history

How?

All financial companies need to share this personal information to run their everyday business. In the section below, we list the reasons financial companies can share this personal information; the reasons AppleTree Credit Union (ATCU) chooses to share; and whether you can limit this sharing.

| Reasons we share your personal information  | Does ATCU share? | Can you limit this sharing? |
|---|------------------|-----------------------------|
| For our everyday business purposes — such as to process your transactions, maintain your account(s), respond to court orders and legal investigations, or report to credit bureaus | Yes              | No                          |
| For our marketing purposes — to offer our products and services to you   | Yes              | No                          |
| For joint marketing with other financial companies   | Yes              | Yes                         |
| For our affiliates' everyday business purposes — information about your transactions and experiences   | No               | We don't share              |
| For our affiliates' everyday business purposes — information about your creditworthiness   | No               | We don't share              |
| For our affiliates to market to you  | No               | We don't share              |
| For non-affiliates to market to you  | No               | We don't share              |

Who we are

Who is providing this notice?

AppleTree Credit Union (ATCU)

What we do

How does AppleTree Credit Union protect my personal information?

To protect your personal information from unauthorized access and use, we use security measures that comply with federal law. These measures include computer safeguards and secured files and buildings.

How does AppleTree Credit Union collect my personal information?

We collect your personal information, for example, when you

- open an account or apply for a loan
- conduct a transaction or request information on your account
- make an address or other change to your account

Why can't I limit all sharing?

Federal law gives you the right to limit only

- sharing for affiliates' everyday business purposes — information about your creditworthiness
- affiliates from using your information to market to you
- sharing for non-affiliates to market to you

State laws and individual companies may give you additional rights to limit sharing.

What happens when I limit sharing for an account I hold jointly with someone else?

The decision will affect all listed on the account.
